The True Missionary's Dependence Is in God

1 There are times when prayer becomes unusually urgent. It is 2 when we are to take a decided position that the church and 3 the world are not to be united, when philosophy and science
4 claim to be the gospel, when men by their own interpretation
5 make the commandments of God and the traditions of men
6 identical. Fervent prayer must go up to God when the church
7 is to show forth in her pure and exalted character the religion
8 of Christ, and by precept and example affirm the difference
9 between the teachings of men, purporting to be for the uplift-
10 ing of humanity, and the means by which God would purify 11 society. The church is to shine in the world as a light; but she 12 is to do so by depending upon a divine agency, by having a 13 living connection with the living God. This dependence is in-
14 dispensable to her success and victory. {RH July 4, 1893, par.
15 1}

16 The true missionary's hope is in God alone, and he makes 17 manifest this fact by importuning the throne of grace. Skepti-18 cal philosophy is easily distinguished from the gospel; for the 19 gospel makes known the Christian's dependence upon God,
20 and requires him to take counsel with God. In this way the 21 Christian becomes a true sign-board, pointing heavenward. He 22 says, "I can do nothing of myself," and makes manifest the fact 23 that the rebuke of God is upon the pride of human inventions. He 24 lays claim to a power that is all-sufficient to accomplish the 25 work. {RH July 4, 1893, par. 2}

26 There will come times when the church will be stirred by di-
27 vine power, and earnest activity will be the result; for the life-
28 giving power of the Holy Spirit will inspire its members to go 29 forth and bring souls to Christ. But when this activity is 30 manifested, the most earnest workers will be safe only as they 31 depend upon God through constant, earnest prayer. They will 32 need to make earnest supplication that through the grace of 33 Christ they may be saved from taking pride in their work, or of 34 making a saviour of their activity. They must constantly look to 35 Jesus, that they may realize that it is his power which does 36 the work, and thus be able to ascribe all the glory to God. We 37 shall be called upon to make most decided efforts to extend the 38 work of God, and prayer to our heavenly Father will be most es-

39 sential. It will be necessary to engage in prayer in the closet, 40 in the family, and in the church. Our households must be set in 41 order, and earnest efforts must be made to interest every member 42 of the family in missionary enterprises. We must seek to engage 43 the sympathies of our children in earnest work for the unsaved, 44 that they may do their best at all times and in all places to repre-
45 sent Christ. {RH July 4, 1893, par. 3}

46 But let us not forget that as activity increases, and we become 47 successful in doing the work that must be accomplished,
48 there is danger of our trusting in human plans and methods.
49 There will be a tendency to pray less, and to have less faith.
50 We shall be in danger of losing our sense of dependence upon 51 God, who alone can make our work succeed; but although this 52 is the tendency, let no one think that the human instrument is 53 to do less. No, he is not to do less, but to do more by accepting 54 the heavenly gift, the Holy Spirit. The world in its own wisdom
55 knew not God, and every human power is naturally, to a greater 56 or less degree, opposed to God. We are to look to Jesus, and 57 co-operate with heavenly agencies, offering our petitions to 58 the Father in Jesus' name. In this way we shall not turn aside 59 with those who are content to follow the sparks of their own kin-
60 dling; but by the precept and example we shall make it manifest
61 to the world that we are Christ's witnesses. {RH July 4, 1893,
62 par. 4}

63 The Lord has said that his work is to be done, "not by might nor 64 by power; but by my Spirit." The work of God is to be carried 65 on to completion by the co-operation of divine and human 66 agencies. Those who are self-sufficient may be apparently ac-
67 tive in the work of God; but if they are prayerless, their ac-
68 tivity is of no avail. Could they look into the censer of the angel 69 that stands at the golden altar before the rainbow-circled throne, 70 they would see that the merit of Jesus must be mingled with our 71 prayers and efforts, or they are as worthless as was the offering 72 of Cain. Could we see all the activity of human instrumentali-

73 ty, as it appears before God, we would see that only the work 74 accomplished by much prayer, which is sanctified by the 75 merit of Christ, will stand the test of the judgment. When the 76 grand review shall take place, then shall ye return and discern 77 between him that serveth God and him that serveth him not. {RH
78 July 4, 1893, par. 5}

79 To preach to the people will avail nothing unless the worker
80 has a vital connection with God. The minister may attract at-81 tention by his eloquence; but if his spirit and action are not in 82 harmony with his words, they will have little power to convert 83 the soul. Christ sent forth his disciples to preach the gospel 84 not singly, but by twos, that they might labor unitedly in 85 spreading the truth. Jesus saw that this plan would result in 86 much more good than if one was sent alone. There is need of 87 two working together; for one can encourage the other, and they 88 can counsel, pray, and search the Bible together. In this they may 89 get a broader light upon the truth; for one will see one phase, and 90 the other another phase of the truth. If they are erring, they can 91 correct one another in speech and attitude, so that the truth
92 may not be lightly esteemed because of the defects of its ad-
93 vocates. If the workers are sent out alone, there is no one to see 94 or correct their errors; but when two go together, an educating 95 work may be carried on, and each worker become what he 96 should be,—a successful soul-winner. {RH July 4, 1893, par.
97 6}

98 If frequently happens that one of the workers is self-conceit- 99 ed because of his power to interest his hearers, and yet he 100 may not be one who may win souls to Christ. How important
101 that a humble man be set aside, who is a laborer together 102 with God, who watches and prays in simplicity, whom the 103 heavenly Father that seeth in secret can reward openly. In the 104 sight of men the self-sufficient worker may seem to be moving 105 the world; but in the sight of God the humble wrestler moves
106 heaven. The hosts of God are interested in the humble, pray- 107 ing man, who dares not make a move without first coming in 108 prayer into the presence of God to counsel with the Omnipot-
109 ent. True missionary work can be done only in the spirit of the 110 first Missionary who visited our world. He was often in prayer to 111 his Father, and at times presented his petitions with strong crying

112 and tears, pleading that the power of God might save those who 113 knew not that they needed salvation. We must have the spirit
114 that actuated Christ, that led him to entreat and persuade 115 the rebellious to come unto him. Even when men turn away 116 from us in hardness of heart, refusing the gift of eternal life, we 117 are to imitate the example of Christ. He did not look with in- 118 difference upon those who slighted and rejected him. It was a 119 hard struggle for the Saviour to give up the child of his love, 120 even Jerusalem. He had led his chosen people through the 121 wilderness, enshrouded in the pillar of cloud by day and pillar of 122 fire by night. He had directed their ways, guided them by his eye, 123 and watched over them continually. Must he now give up his son 124 whom he had delivered from slavery in Egypt? O, if the Jewish 125 nation had known the Prince of Life who came to save them, 126 they would not have hated him, refused to hear him, and at last 127 crucified him. But knowing that they would work the will of Sa-128 tan against him, he looked upon Jerusalem, saying, “O
129 Jerusalem, Jerusalem, thou that killest the prophets, and stonest 130 them which are sent unto thee, how often would I have gathered 131 thy children together, even as a hen gathered her chickens under 132 her wings, and ye would not.” {RH July 4, 1893, par. 7}

133 The church must pray in faith, else if the Lord grants success
134 to our work, we shall be ensnared through spiritual pride.
135 Sincere, earnest prayer will be answered. God has pledged his 136 word that he will answer the cry of the honest heart. The order 137 will be given in heaven, “Open the windows of heaven, and pour 138 out a blessing upon the earnest suppliant.” Let many missionar- 139 ies enter the field, but let them count the cost before begin-
140 ning the work. Let each ask himself, Am I prepared to sur-
141 render everything for the success of the work? Then as wise 142 men lay your plans that you may devote yourself to the work,
143 that in singleness of purpose you may endure hardness as good
144 soldiers of Jesus Christ, giving yourselves wholly to his service, 145 humbly trusting in God, who has said, “The effectual, fervent 146 prayer of a righteous man availeth much.” Go forth to labor in 147 the interests of the truth, and become agents in the hands of God
148 for the saving of perishing souls for whom Christ died. {RH July 149 4, 1893, par. 8}—Ellen White, Review and Herald, July 4, 1893
