

By Beholding We Become Changed

Introductory Thoughts

1 2 Corinthians 3:18 (NKJV) 18 "But we all, with unveiled face, beholding as 2 in a mirror the glory of the Lord, are being transformed into the same image 3 from glory to glory, just as by the Spirit of the Lord."

4 "It would be well to spend a thoughtful hour each day reviewing the life of 5 Christ from the manger to Calvary. We should take it point by point and let 6 the imagination vividly grasp each scene, especially the closing ones of His 7 earthly life. By thus contemplating His teachings and sufferings, and the 8 infinite sacrifice made by Him for the redemption of the race, we may 9 strengthen our faith, quicken our love, and become more deeply imbued with 10 the spirit which sustained our Saviour. If we would be saved at last we must 11 all learn the lesson of penitence and faith at the foot of the cross. ...
12 Everything noble and generous in man will respond to the contemplation of 13 Christ upon the cross." Testimonies, Vol. 4, 374.1

15 Enoch: The Holy, Heavenly-Minded Messenger

16 What brought about Enoch's conversion?

17 Genesis 5:22, 24 (NKJV) 22 "After he begot Methuselah, Enoch walked with 18 God three hundred years.... 24 And Enoch walked with God; and he was not, 19 for God took him."

20 "[A]fter the birth of his first son, Enoch reached a higher experience; he was 21 drawn into a closer relationship with God. ... [A]s he saw the child's love for 22 its father, its simple trust in his protection; as he felt the deep, yearning 23 tenderness of his own heart for that first-born son, he learned a precious 24 lesson of the wonderful love of God to men in the gift of His Son, and the 25 confidence which the children of God may repose in their heavenly Father.
26 The infinite, unfathomable love of God through Christ became the subject of 27 his meditations day and night; and with all the fervor of his soul he sought to 28 reveal that love to the people among whom he dwelt." Patriarchs and 29 Prophets, p. 84.3

30

31 What was the result of Enoch's conversion?

32 Amos 3:3 (NKJV) 3 "Can two walk together, unless they are agreed?"

33 "It was in looking in faith to Jesus, in asking of Him, in believing that every 34 word spoken would be verified, that Enoch walked with God. He kept close 35 by the side of God, obeying His every word. . . . His was a wonderful life of 36 oneness. Christ was his Companion. He was in intimate fellowship with 37 God." Manuscript 11, 1898

38 "We read that he walked with God. He studied the character of God to a 39 purpose. He did not mark out his own course, or set up his own will, as if he 40 thought himself fully qualified to manage matters. He strove to conform 41 himself to the divine likeness.” Letter 169, 1903

42

43 What was Enoch's work for God?

44 Jude 1:14-15 (NKJV) 14 “Now Enoch, the seventh from Adam, 45 prophesied....”

46 “Enoch faithfully rehearsed to the people all that had been revealed to him by 47 the spirit of prophecy. Some believed his words, and turned from their 48 wickedness to fear and worship God. Such often sought Enoch in his places 49 of retreat, and he instructed them, and prayed for them....” Signs of the 50 Times, February 20, 1879, par. 6

51

52 How did Enoch reach the people?

53 “He did not make his abode with the wicked. ... He placed himself and his 54 family where the atmosphere would be as pure as possible. Then at times he 55 went forth to the inhabitants of the world with his God-given message. Every 56 visit he made to the world was painful to him. He saw and understood 57 something of the leprosy of sin. After proclaiming his message, he always 58 took back with him to his place of retirement some who had received the 59 warning.” Manuscript 42, 1900.10

60 “[Believers] often sought Enoch in his places of retreat, and he instructed 61 them, and prayed for them that God would give them a knowledge of his 62 will. He finally chose certain periods for retirement, and would not suffer the 63 people to find him, for they interrupted his holy meditations and communion 64 with God. He did not exclude himself at all times from the society of those 65 who loved him and listened to his words of wisdom; neither did he separate 66 himself wholly from the corrupt. He met with the righteous and the wicked at 67 stated times. He would remain with them as long as he could benefit them by 68 his godly conversation and holy example, and then would withdraw himself 69 for a season from all society—from the just, the scoffing and idolatrous, to 70 remain in solitude, hungering and thirsting for communion with God, and 71 that divine knowledge which he alone could give him.” Signs of the Times, 72 February 20, 1879, par. 6

73

74 How did Enoch make sure he was beholding on an ongoing basis?

75 Matthew 6:6 (NKJV) 6 “But you, when you pray, go into your room, and 76 when you have shut your door, pray to your Father who is in the secret place; 77 and your Father who sees in secret will reward you openly.”

78 “In the midst of a life of active labor, Enoch steadfastly maintained his 79 communion with God. The greater and more pressing his labors, the more 80 constant and earnest were his prayers. After remaining for a time among the 81 people laboring to benefit them by instruction and example, he would 82 withdraw, to spend a season in solitude, hungering and thirsting for that 83 divine knowledge which God alone can impart.” Patriarchs and Prophets, p.
84 86, 87

85 “Enoch “walked with God;” but how did he gain this sweet intimacy? It was 86 by having thoughts of God continually before him. As he went out and as he 87 came in, his meditations were upon the goodness, the perfection, and the 88 loveliness of the divine character. And as he was thus engaged, he became 89 changed into the glorious image of his Lord; for it is by beholding that we 90 become changed.” Signs of the Times, August 18, 1887, par. 7 91 "Enoch continued to grow more heavenly while communing with God. His 92 face was radiant with a holy light which would remain upon his countenance 93 while instructing those who would hear his words of wisdom. His dignified 94 appearance struck the people with awe." Signs of the Times, February 20, 95 1879, par. 7

96 “His feet were always directed in the path of obedience to God’s 97 commandments. Constantly his meditations were upon the goodness, the 98 perfection, the loveliness, of the divine character. His conversation was upon 99 heavenly things; he trained his mind to run in this channel. As he looked to 100 Jesus, he became changed into the glorious image of his Lord, and his 101 countenance was lighted up with the glory that shines from the face of 102 Christ.” Signs of the Times, October 12, 1904

103 “And how did Enoch walk with God? He educated his mind and heart to 104 ever feel that he was in the presence of God, and when in perplexity his 105 prayers would ascend to God to keep him. He refused to take any course that 106 would offend His God.” Sermon and Talks, Vol. 1, 32

107 108 Why did Enoch please God?

109 Hebrews 11:6 “He had this testimony, that he pleased God.”

110 "The Lord loved Enoch, because he steadfastly followed him, and abhorred 111 iniquity, and earnestly sought a more perfect knowledge of his will, that he 112 might perform it. He yearned to unite himself still more closely to God, 113 whom he feared, revered, and adored.” Signs of the Times, February 20, 114 1879, par. 7

115 “The society surrounding him was no more friendly to righteousness than is 116 the society surrounding us at the present time. The atmosphere he breathed 117 was tainted with sin and corruption, the same as ours; yet he was unsullied 118 [uncontaminated—spotless and without flaw] with the prevailing sins of the 119 age in which he lived. And so may we remain as pure and uncorrupted as did 120 the faithful Enoch.” Review and Herald, August 23, 1881, par. 5

121 122 Who does Enoch represent?

123 “Enoch represents those who shall remain upon the earth and be translated to 124 Heaven without seeing death.” Review and Herald, April 19, 1870, par. 11

125 “Enoch was holy because he walked with God in God’s way. In him the 126 world had an example of what those will be who, when Christ comes, are 127 caught up in the clouds to meet Him in the air. As Enoch was, so are we to 128 be.” Letter 97, 1902.6

129
130 What can we learn from Job?

131 Job 1:1 (NKJV) 1 “There was a man in the land of Uz, whose name was Job; 132 and that man was blameless and upright, and one who feared God and 133 shunned evil.”

134

Beholding Christ

136 Scriptures On Beholding Christ

137 Philippians 4:8 (KJV) 8 Finally, brethren, whatsoever things are true, 138 whatsoever things are honest, whatsoever things are just, whatsoever things 139 are pure, whatsoever things are lovely, whatsoever things are of good report; 140 if there be any virtue, and if there be any praise, think on these things.

141 1 John 3:2-3 (KJV) 2 "Beloved, now are we the sons of God, and it doth not 142 yet appear what we shall be: but we know that, when he shall appear, we 143 shall be like him; for we shall see him as he is. 3 And every man that hath 144 this hope in him purifieth himself, even as he is pure." 145

146 Quotations On Beholding Christ

147 Transformation Comes In Beholding Christ

148 "As the mind dwells upon Christ, the character is molded after the divine 149 similitude. The thoughts are pervaded with a sense of His goodness, His 150 love. We contemplate His character, and thus He is in all our thoughts. His 151 love encloses us. If we gaze even a moment upon the sun in its meridian 152 glory, when we turn away our eyes, the image of the sun will appear in 153 everything upon which we look. Thus it is when we behold Jesus; everything 154 we look upon reflects His image, the Sun of Righteousness. We cannot see 155 anything else, or talk of anything else. His image is imprinted upon the eye 156 of the soul and affects every portion of our daily life, softening and subduing 157 our whole nature. By beholding, we are conformed to the divine similitude, 158 even the likeness of Christ. To all with whom we associate we reflect the 159 bright and cheerful beams of His righteousness. We have become 160 transformed in character; for heart, soul, mind, are irradiated by the 161 reflection of Him who loved us and gave Himself for us. Here again there is 162 the realization of a personal, living influence dwelling in our hearts by faith."
 163 Testimonies to Ministers, 388.2

164 Beholding Christ We Become Like Him

165 "He who drinks from the water of the fountain of life, will be filled with the 166 new wine of the kingdom. Faith in Christ will be the means whereby the 167 right spirit and motive will actuate the believer, and all goodness and 168 heavenly-mindedness will proceed from him who looks unto Jesus, the 169 author and finisher of his faith. Look up to God, look not to men. God is your 170 heavenly Father who is willing patiently to bear with your infirmities, and to 171 forgive and heal them. "This is life eternal, that they might know thee the 172 only true God, and Jesus Christ, whom thou hast sent." By beholding Christ, 173 you will become changed, until you will hate your former pride, your former 174 vanity and self-esteem, your self-righteousness and unbelief. You will cast 175 these sins aside as a worthless burden, and walk humbly, meekly, trustfully, 176 before God. You will practice love, patience, gentleness, goodness, mercy, 177 and every grace that dwells in the child of God, and will at last find a place 178 among the sanctified and holy." 1888, 1226.2

179 Beholding Christ Brings Conviction Of Sin

180 "The theme that attracts the heart of the sinner is Christ, and him crucified.
 181 On the cross of Calvary, Jesus stands revealed to the world in unparalleled

182 love. Present him thus to the hungry multitudes, and the light of his love 183 will win men from darkness to light, from transgression to obedience and 184 true holiness. Beholding Jesus upon the cross of Calvary arouses the 185 conscience to the heinous character of sin as nothing else can do. It was sin 186 that caused the death of God's dear Son, and sin is the transgression of the 187 law. On him was laid the iniquities of us all. The sinner then consents unto 188 the law that it is good; for he realizes that it condemns his evil deeds, while 189 he magnifies the matchless love of God in providing for him salvation 190 through the imputed righteousness of Him who knew no sin, in whose mouth 191 there was found no guile." 1888 1074.1

192 We Behold Christ In Moments Of Communion

193 "It is because there is so little communion with God, that spiritual life is so 194 feeble, and the efforts of our workers meet with so little success. Our natures 195 must be raised from their earthliness; they must be kindled and purified in 196 the upper brightness of God's divine presence. Why are we so easily satisfied 197 with little flashes of light, when there is a heaven of illumination for us? We 198 drink at shallow streams, when there is a great fountain just above us, if we 199 will only rise a little higher in the pathway of faith. Home Missionary, 200 November 1, 1890 Par. 11 It is by beholding Christ, through faith, that we 201 are to be changed into his likeness. As we meditate upon the perfection of his 202 character, we shall desire to become wholly transformed and renewed in the 203 image of his purity. There will be a hungering and thirsting of soul to be 204 made like him whom we adore. The more our thoughts are upon Christ, the 205 more we shall speak of him to others, and represent him to the world." Home
206 Missionary, November 1, 1890 Par. 12

207 Look To Christ We Live

208 "Talk as Christ talked; work as Christ worked. We must look to Christ and 209 live. Catching sight of His loveliness, we long to practice the virtues and 210 righteousness of Christ. It is by beholding Christ that we become changed 211 into His image, and by renouncing self, giving our hearts up wholly to 212 Jesus for His Spirit to refine, ennoble and elevate, we will be in close 213 connection with the future world, bathed in the bright beams of the Sun of 214 righteousness. We rejoice with joy unspeakable and full of glory. Then we 215 are commanded to go in to other cities and towns and tell them the good 216 news with hearts all aglow with divine love, even to them that are afar off, 217 even as many as the Lord your God shall call." Manuscript Releases, Vol. 4, 218 310.3

219 Beholding Christ We Receive The Moral Image Of God

220 "If fathers and mothers love the Bible, and talk of the lessons Christ has 221 given; if they love Jesus, and make him the theme of conversation, a 222 heavenly atmosphere will pervade the home. As the wax receives the impress 223 of the seal, so the soul will receive and retain the moral image of God. By 224 beholding, we become changed. If we allow the mind to dwell upon the 225 imperfections and moral deformities of others, we ourselves shall become 226 depraved in character, and mentally one-sided and unbalanced. But if the 227 mind dwells upon the perfect life of Christ, and the thoughts and 228 conversation are centered upon him, we shall be changed to the same 229 image." Signs of the Times, May 4, 1888, par. 10

230

Negative Beholding

231 Scriptures On Negative Beholding

232 Job 31:1 (KJV) 1 I made a covenant with mine eyes; why then should I think 233 upon a maid?"

234 Psalms 119:37 (KJV) 37 "Turn away mine eyes from beholding vanity; and 235 quicken thou me in thy way."

236 1 Thessalonians 5:21-22 (KJV) 21 "Prove all things; hold fast that which is 237 good. 22 Abstain from all appearance of evil." 238

239 Quotations On Negative Beholding

240 It Is Dangerous To Look Upon The Diseased Souls Of Others

241 "O let us encourage our souls to look to Jesus! Tell every one how dangerous 242 it is to neglect his own soul's eternal healthfulness by looking upon the 243 diseased souls of others, by talking upon the uncomeliness of character found 244 in those who profess the name of Christ. The soul does not become more and 245 more like Christ by beholding evil, but like the evil which it beholds. The 246 same love of self, the same indulgence of self, the same hastiness of spirit, 247 the same petulance of temper, the same sensitiveness and pride of opinion, 248 the same unwillingness to receive counsel, the same unsanctified, 249 independent judgment, will be manifest in those who criticise as in those 250 whom they criticise." Review and Herald, August 15, 1893, par. 4

251 Looking At The Faults Of Others Brings Similar Faults In The Observer

252 "Do not keep your mind fixed on the defective example of professing 253 Christians. You will, of course, see in their lives things that are not right. But 254 if you keep looking at their faults, you will become like them. Instead of 255 looking at the lives of your fellow men, look to Jesus. There you will see no 256 imperfection, but perfection, righteousness, goodness, mercy, and truth. Take 257 the Saviour as your example in all things. In looking to men instead of 258 beholding Christ, you have made a great mistake."—Letter written in 1903.
259 Manuscript 87, 1906.3

260 There Is No Strength In Brooding Over Weaknesses

261 "There is no spiritual strength for us in constantly brooding over our 262 weakness and backslidings, and bemoaning the power of Satan. This great 263 truth must be established as a living principle in our minds and hearts—the 264 efficacy of the offering made for us; that God can and does save to the 265 uttermost all who come unto Him complying with the conditions specified in 266 His word. Our work is to place our will on the side of God's will. Then, 267 through the blood of the atonement, we become partakers of the divine 268 nature; through Christ we are children of God, and we have the assurance 269 that God loves us even as He loved His Son. We are one with Jesus. We 270 walk where Christ leads the way; He has power to dispel the dark shadows 271 which Satan casts across our path; and, in place of darkness and 272 discouragement, the sunlight of His glory shines into our hearts." Counsels
273 for the Church, 79.4 ...

274 "Many fix their eyes upon the terrible wickedness existing around them, the 275 apostasy and weakness on every side, and they talk of these things until their 276 hearts are filled with sadness and doubt. They keep uppermost before the 277 mind the masterly working of the archdeceiver and dwell upon the 278 discouraging features of their experience, while they seem to lose sight of the 279 heavenly Father's power and His matchless love. All this is as Satan would 280 have it. . . . We must talk of the mightiness of Christ. We are utterly 281 powerless to rescue ourselves from the grasp of Satan; but God has 282 appointed a way of escape. The Son of the Highest has strength to fight the 283 battle for us, and "through Him that loved us" we may come off "more than 284 conquerors." Counsels for the Church, 79.3

285 Brethren and sisters, it is by beholding that we become changed. By dwelling 286 upon the love of God and our Saviour, by contemplating the perfection of the 287 divine character and claiming the righteousness of Christ as ours by faith, we 288 are to be transformed into the same image. Then let us not gather together all 289 the unpleasant pictures—the iniquities and corruptions and disappointments, 290 the evidences of Satan's power—to hang in the halls of our memory, to talk 291 over and mourn over until our souls are filled with discouragement. A 292 discouraged soul is a body of darkness, not only failing himself to receive the 293 light of God, but shutting it away from others. Satan loves to see the effect of 294 the pictures of his triumphs, making human beings faithless and 295 disheartened." Counsels for the Church, 80.1

296 Look Away From What Is Disagreeable To Christ

297 "How much sweet peace we lose because we keep poring over the 298 disagreeable items in ourselves and in our brethren. We must look away from 299 the disagreeable to Jesus. We must love Him more, obtain more of His 300 attractive beauty and grace of character, and cease filling the mind with the 301 contemplation of others' mistakes and others' errors. . . . Think of Him and be 302 charmed away from yourself and from every disagreeable thing; for 303 beholding our defects faith is weakened. Faith in God and His promises is 304 lost sight of." Manuscript Releases, Vol. 15, 146.2

305 Do Not Dwell On Imperfections

306 "When the mind dwells upon self, it is turned away from Christ, the source 307 of strength and life. Hence it is Satan's constant effort to keep the attention 308 diverted from the Saviour and thus prevent the union and communion of the 309 soul with Christ." Steps to Christ, 71.2

310 We Become Spiritually Dwarfed In Beholding The Faults Of Others

311 "We shall never grow in grace by beholding the faults and mistakes and 312 defects of someone else. Instead, we will become spiritually dwarfed and 313 enfeebled. Let us keep looking to Christ, thinking of what he has done for us 314 and of what he has promised to do. Thus we shall be changed into his 315 likeness. This is true religion." Paulson Collection, 318.4

316 We Have No Time To Dwell Upon The Defects Of Others

317 "Earnest workers have no time to dwell upon the defects of others. They 318 behold the Saviour, and by beholding become changed into His likeness. He 319 is the One whose example we are to follow in our character-building."
320 Pamphlet 151, 46.3

321 Looking For Evil Develops Defects In Those Who Look

322 "Slipshod religion is a dangerous thing, in the home or in the church; and to 323 educate the mind to look for defects in others unfits the soul for communion 324 with God. This is the leaven of evil. The very act of looking for evil in others 325 develops defects in those who look." Youth's Instructor, September 21, 326 1899, par. 7

327 Faultfinding Can Become A Religion

328 "Do not come at your brethren to pick at their faults, to make a drive at their 329 peculiar traits of character. Educate them to better habits, and better traits, by 330 the power of your own example. If you make it evident that you have come 331 to correct them, you will only arouse their combativeness, and do more harm 332 than if you had not come at all. Reveal Jesus to them, that they may behold 333 him and become like him. If you cultivate fault-finding, and take it upon 334 yourself to correct your brethren, you will soon have no other religion save 335 that of picking flaws and finding defects. You cannot benefit the sinner by 336 coming to him in your own way and in your own strength. Christ alone can 337 save him." Signs of the Times, July 1, 1889, par. 9

338 We Must Guard Our Eyes From Beholding Iniquity

339 "Everything that can be done should be done to place ourselves and our 340 children where we shall not see the iniquity that is practiced in the world. We 341 should carefully guard the sight of our eyes and the hearing of our ears so 342 that these awful things shall not enter our minds. When the daily newspaper 343 comes into the house, I feel as if I want to hide it, that the ridiculous, 344 sensational things in it may not be seen. It seems as if the enemy is at the 345 foundation of the publishing of many things that appear in newspapers.
346 Every sinful thing that can be found is uncovered and laid bare before the 347 world." Adventist Home, 403.4

348 Some Reading Destroys Love For The Pure Truth Of The Word

349 "Parents should endeavor to keep out of the home every influence that is not 350 productive of good. In this matter some parents have much to learn. To those 351 who feel free to read story magazines and novels I would say: You are 352 sowing seed the harvest of which you will not care to garner. From such 353 reading there is no spiritual strength to be gained. Rather it destroys love for 354 the pure truth of the word. Through the agency of novels and story 355 magazines, Satan is working to fill with unreal and trivial thoughts minds 356 that should be diligently studying the word of God. Thus he is robbing 357 thousands upon thousands of the time and energy and self-discipline 358 demanded by the stern problems of life." Adventist Home, 411.1

359 We Must Fasten Our Eyes Upon Jesus

360 "Fasten your eyes upon Jesus, dear friends, and by beholding you will 361 become assimilated to his image. Do not allow your thoughts to dwell 362 continually upon things of the earth, but place them upon things that are 363 heavenly, and then, wherever you are, you will be a light to the world." Signs
